

Unused Software Licenses Cost Enterprises Millions

The average enterprise with 10k+ employees uses 664 software applications and spends $225 million annually. Nearly 50% of those licenses go unused.

AI. Driven. Workflows.

By leveraging Elementum's automated workflows within Snowflake, companies can identify and reclaim unused software licenses, ensuring every dollar spent on SaaS is justified.

100% Visibility. Fully Automated. Zero Waste.

Automate the end-to-end lifecycle of a software contract using data in Snowflake:

Software License Management:

Only allocate licenses to users who need them

- Use ML to capture user logins and activity patterns across sources
- Identify and predict inactive users, auto initiate reclaim license workflow
- Approve reclaims, and feed data into Contract Management app for optimized renegotiation

Contract Management:

Optimize renewals and eliminate wasted license spend

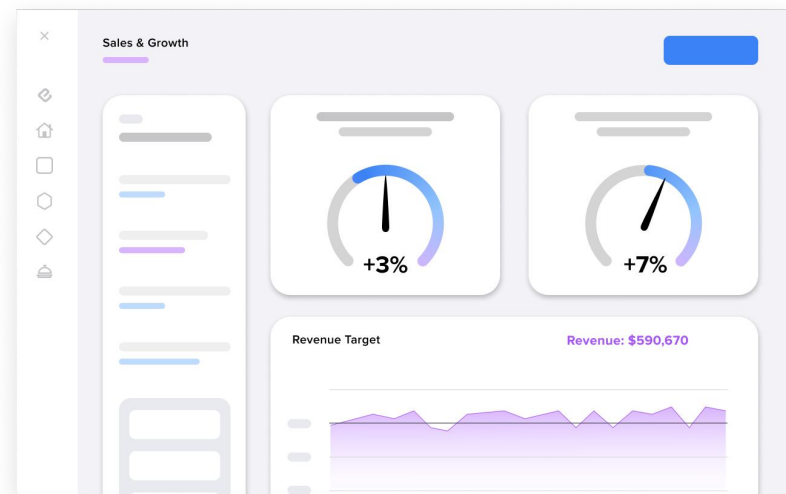

- Compare actual usage with contracted quantities
- Identify over-provisioned licenses and recommend optimal license count
- Manage renegotiations with automated reminders and usage analytics

Application Portfolio Management:

Minimize overhead and eliminate redundant spend

- Analyze application usage, performance, and business value across the portfolio
- Identify overlapping and underperforming applications, recommend candidates for replacement
- Initiate and manage application consolidation workflows to streamline the portfolio

Example: Consolidate from three BI tools to the one that best fits the enterprise's needs
